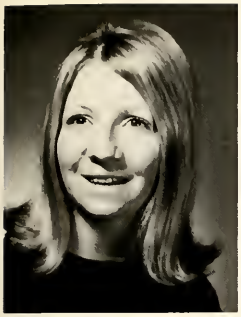
RANDAL L. COLEMAN–Ag. Placement

We put tacks on chairs but never really let anyone sit on them. We flipped paperwads and raced to lunch.

We were the object of many teachers' admiration and the center of much of Southern Well's activity.

We got A's on exams and won hard earned recognition. We worried and spent sleepless nights, but finally we were accepted by that certain college or hired for that important job.



JANICE A. DAVIS–Band, Chorus, Thespians, G.A.A., Pep Club, Student Librarian, Sunshine, Journalism, Bowling Club, C.O.E.

1968-69 Senior class officers were Jim Pace, President; Vickie Haiflich, Vice President; Ron Frank, Reporter, Kathy Powell, Treasurer; Doris Brinneman, Secretary.

Our Seniors were very special people

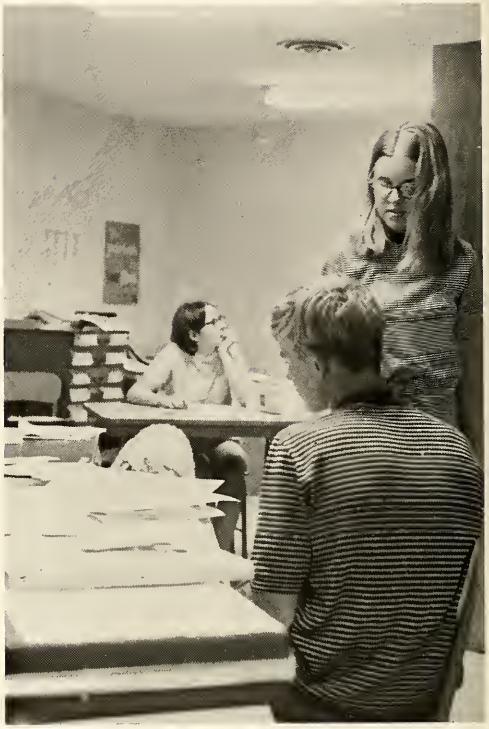
These were thoughtful, understanding young adults.

Memories of a long remembered night.

Ambitions about to be realized, hopes for the future, these were the thoughts whirling in the Seniors' minds.

ACADEMICS

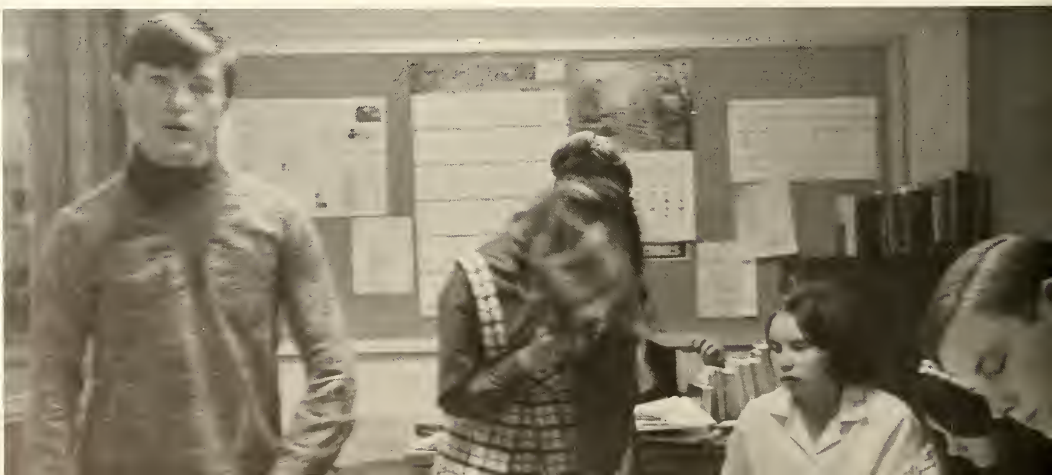
Sue Inskeep, Susie Haines, and Review Editor Connie Wilson discuss production problems.



Earnest dedication to their work helped see the journalism staff through the year.

Gathering facts was part of our job

This was a hardworking staff, despite the grimaces.



Mike Jones and Wayne Dickey were only two of many on the photography staff.

An all-new type of newspaper, a feature magazine, came into its' own this year. In the middle of the year a new staff was introduced, consisting not only of Seniors and Juniors, but Sophomores as well, thus we gained a trained staff for the following years.

It was a difficult job and many layouts were smeared with the tears of an anxious editor.

A combined staff worked devotedly, not only on the Review, but also on the Charger.

Editor Connie Wilson and Sue Inskeep collaborate on the last issue of the Review.

Bob Halterman takes sharp aim before he shoots.

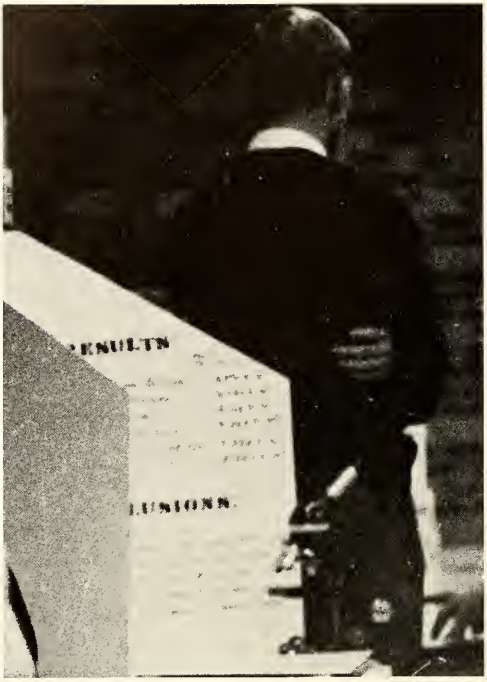
C.O.E. student, Barb Hanni, checks a patient's name.

C.O.E. proved to be rewarding work

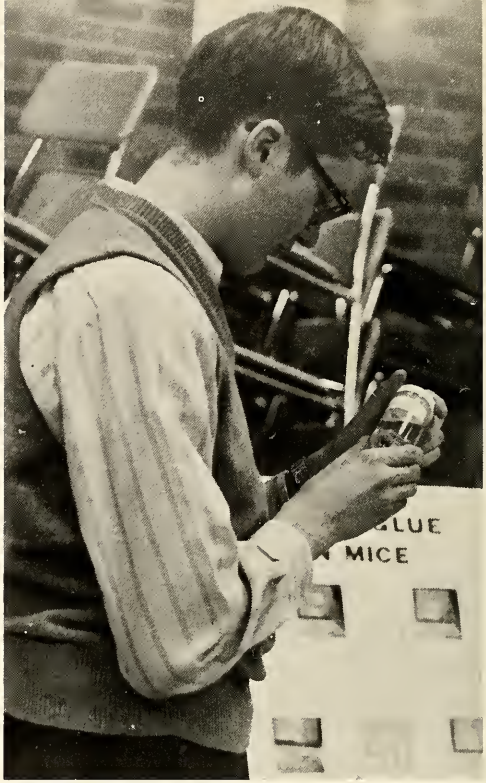
Jan Davis improved her office skills while working as a C.O.E. student.

Shirley Habig became a better secretary while on the C.O.E. Program.

Doris Brinneman has gained a lot of experience in Cooperative Office Education.



Waiting a tense moment before the final word.



Ron Frank makes last minute check on his project.

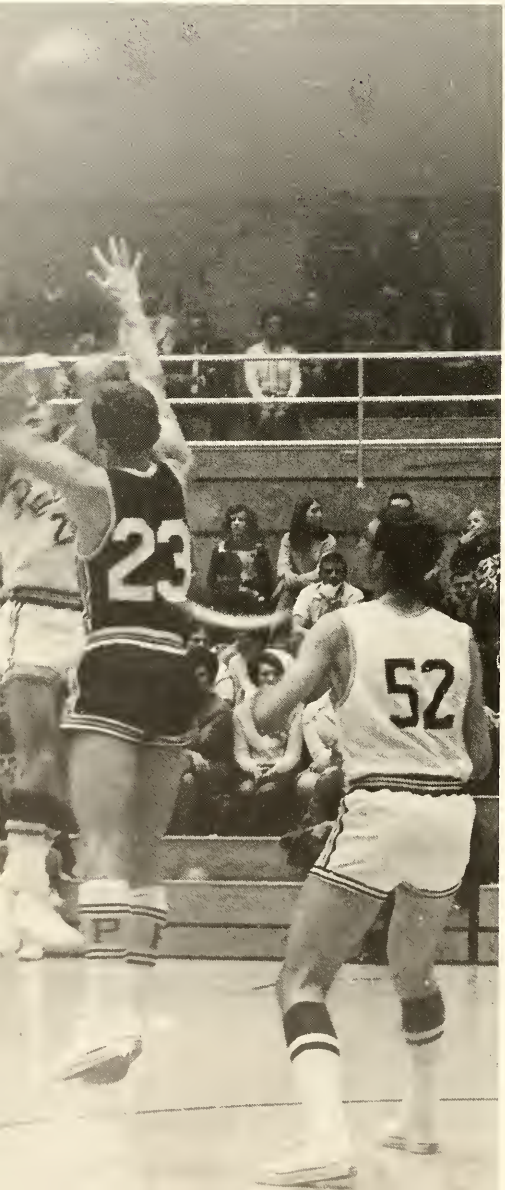
Hard work, careful research paid off

Jeff Smith knows the satisfaction of a job well done.

ATHLETICS

Dedication, determination drove us on

Basketball. It causes a fever in Indiana that touches the heart of the 90 year old just as much as the 9 year old. That's how it was at Southern Wells in 1968-69. Spirits ran high and games were close. Coach Piety's dedication and the determination of the team made it an exciting year. The season also revealed promising players on the 7th, 8th, and 9th grade teams. The year was one to remember.



Tom Gearheart moves in to assist Ken Warner with a jump-ball.

Ray Hartman and Tim Grimm helped to add another two points to their team's score.

Concentration on the game showed on the faces of these young athletes.

Rival captains strive to come out on top.

Varsity showed promise at end of year

Rival players strive to reach the ball first.

Coach Larry Piety's Raiders faced the 1968-69 basketball season with that never say die attitude.

The losses that followed the first win of the season made the spirit of some waver, but most carried the season through with devotion to their team.

The hopes of all soared as near the end of the season action started picking up and the Raiders beat heavily favored Heritage.

The Raiders gave a fine showing at the sectional, however our boys fell before Bellmont in the semi-finals as they brought the season to a close.

Reserves make headlines of their own

Terry Mendenhall tosses an anxious look for her team heavenward.

Our Reserves followed through the year with eight wins and 12 losses. Although the team is not exceptionally tall, their hustle and will power won them their games.

An example of our boys' agility was cited as they came out victorious over Eastbrook whose boys stretched well over six foot.

Through the season the free throw percentage was 56.6 and the average points per game was 42.4.

Pre-Varsity teams learn value of fair play

Eighth Grade Cheerleaders: Marlene Nusbaumer, Ginger McMillan, Vickie Palmer.

Freshman Cheerleaders: Debbie Warner, Carol Martin, Martha Miller, Sherry Anderson.

Seventh Grade Cheerleaders: Carla Mendenhall, Sandy Walburn, Vicki Mounsey.

When they said "squash 'em" that's what they meant!

Cheerleaders channeled school spirit

Varsity Cheerleaders, at top: Rhonda Johns, Joetta McMillan, Clarice Beechler, Cindy Sleppy.

Jr. Varsity Cheerleaders, top: Terry Mendenhall, Dottie McCammon.
Bottom: Carol Schweikhardt, Trudy McMillan.

Piety, Meyers directed our

Raiders' every move

Ross Meyers coached our Jr. Varsity to many victories.

A coach and his assistant are examples of the strain of the game.

Joe Nash was only one of many of our boys who participated in track.

Kent Brown releases one last burst of energy as he nears the finish line.

Trackmen develop strength, endurance

Raiders find hard play vital to wins

A tough decision for the umpire presents itself at home base.

A blur crosses the line of vision as leather and wood meet at the beginning of the baseball season.

S.W.'s golfers learn the fine points

Ron Uptgraft practices his swing.

Three golfers gaze intently at some unknown object.

Ross Meyers advises Greg Kingery on his technique.

Action is reward enough in G.A.A.

G.A.A. girls compete in volleyball

Mrs. Dick gives some last minute instructions to her team.

Any sport earned participants rewards

The field of sports is a rewarding one for both boys and girls. The training of the body is closely related to the training of the mind. Athletics help develop the personality as you work and compete with others. Having goals to strive toward and to achieve plays an important part in the making of good responsible citizens.

Many girls learned the satisfaction that competition in sports can give.

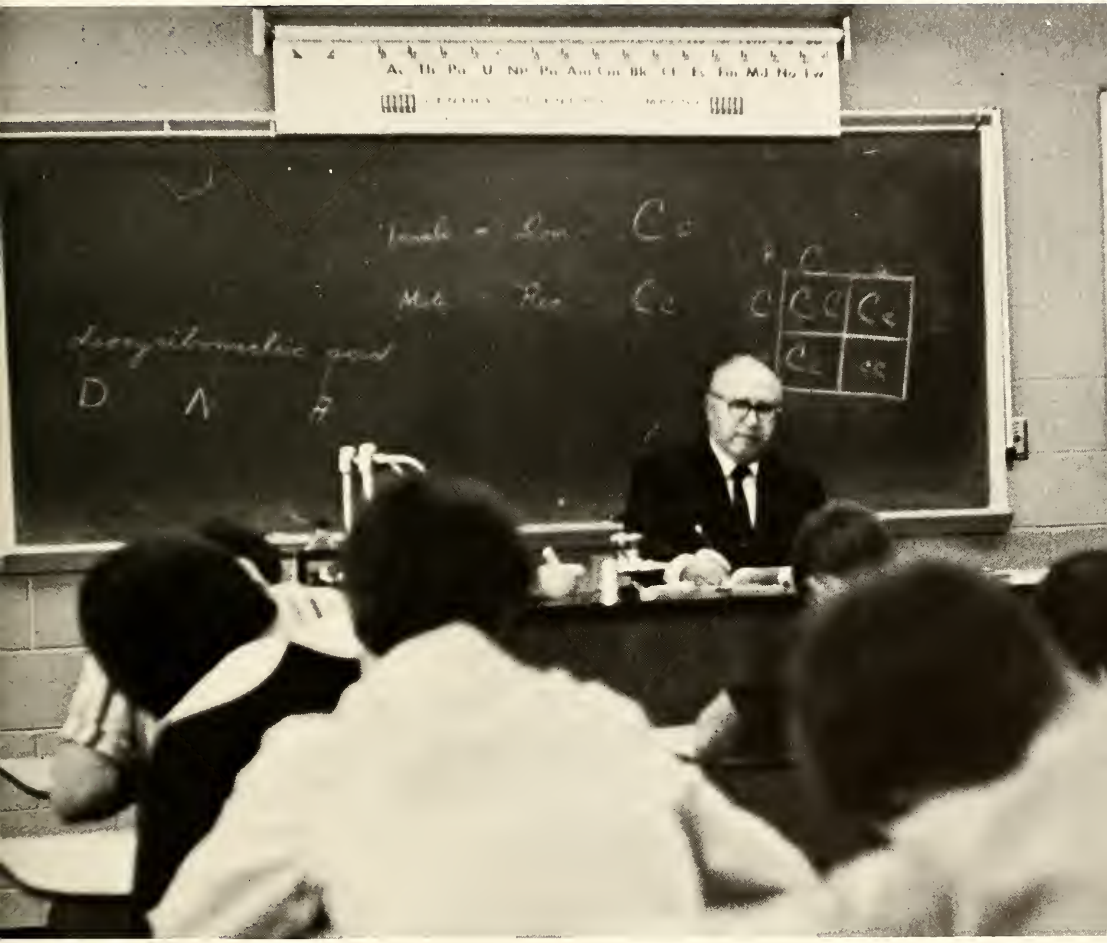
SCHOOL LIFE

We spent hours in preparation for

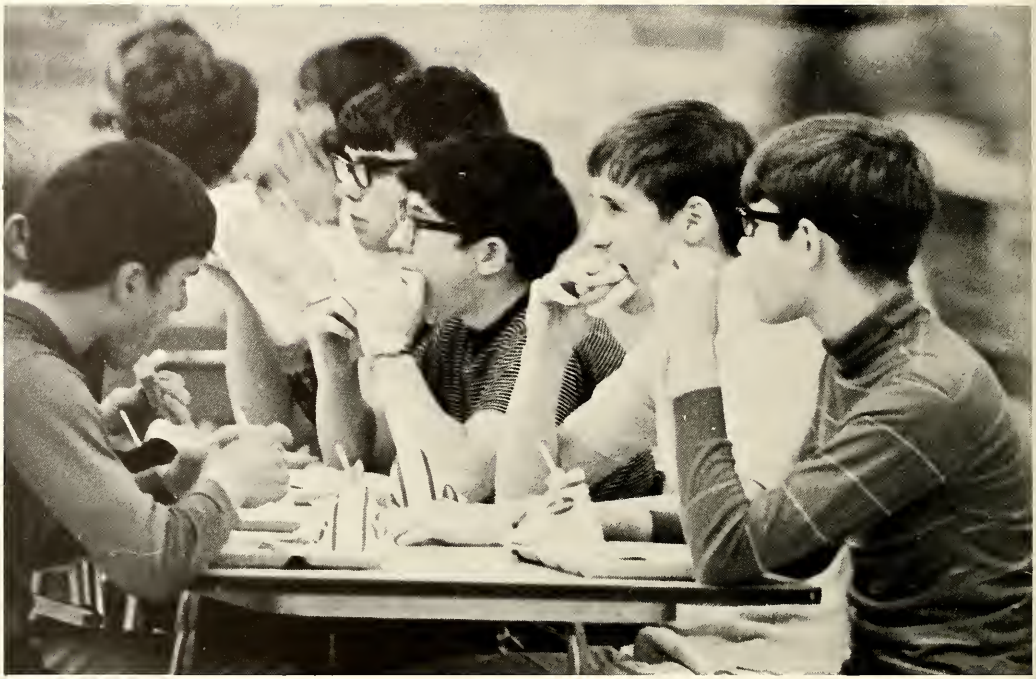
Chris Clements busies herself with an assignment.

Vicki Frantz prepares herself for the future while gaining an education in office work.

new discoveries



Mr. Miller looks on as his class completes a lesson.



Growing boys need food, lots of food.

Jane Seal finishes just in time for class.

Students enjoyed lunch after study

A teacher finds that food and friends mix.

Reneta Ruble takes a bite of . . . .fork?

Even five sophomore girls can't keep these balloons afloat!

Class parties spelled fun for everyone

Miss BeVier offers a few handy hints on the art of playing football.

Jerri Holloway seems anxious to get the game underway.

Everyone, even Mrs. Miner, enjoys a class party.

Transportation a definite way of life

In the year 1969 students found it essential to drive themselves to school more than ever before.

Transportation, however, no matter whether it was provided by the student himself or by the community has changed school life a great deal.

Many students found their own cars were a necessary and efficient way to travel from school to after school jobs.

A young passenger hurries gratefully into the haven of a warm bus.
